Terms of Reference for Individual Consultant

Hiring Office: UNFPA CO in Lao PDR

Purpose of consultancy:
Support government, through MOH, to develop a National Adolescents and Youth Friendly Service (NAYFS) guideline, including a road map for implementation and strengthen the capacity of health care providers to provide youth friendly health services in UNFPA supported areas.

Scope of work:

Background
In Lao PDR approximately 80 percent of the population reside in rural areas. Moreover, Lao PDR is a culturally and linguistic diverse country with 49 recognized ethnic groups. This contributes to a range of traditional practices and cultural beliefs influencing health seeking behaviour and often results in low utilisation of health care services. Lao PDR is a country with a young population, more than half (53%) of its population is aged below 25 years of age (Lao PDR Population and Housing Census 2015). Child marriage is common especially among girls. Currently 1 in 4 adolescent girls aged 15-19 is married, majority of who married before the age of 18. This is significantly more common compared with adolescent boys (1 in 11 adolescent boys are married) (LSIS 2011-12). The adolescent birth rate is one of the highest in the region and was reported to 75.6 births per 1,000 adolescent girls (15-19 years) in 2015 (Lao PDR Population and Housing Census 2015).

The national/ international expert will:

- Support the development of the NAYFS guideline through full consultative processes with MOH, Department of Health Care (DHC) as the leading agency and its key stakeholders (Vientiane Youth Centre, Lao Youth Union, Lao Women’s Union, Ministry of Education and Sports, and other NGOs working with young people). This may be done through series of workshops to garner inputs and gain consensus from stakeholders, as well as for DHC to own the process and final product. The guideline should cover key components of any health services targeting adolescents to ensure quality and appropriateness.
- Strengthen the capacity of health care providers to provide youth-friendly health services. The expert will conceptualise, prepare and conduct a ToT master training for central health care providers to be able to facilitate, supervise and monitor the adolescents and youth friendly services in other health facilities. The training will be based on the draft guideline.
- Provide Technical support to the master trainers to conduct pilot testing of the guideline, including conducting training for the district health providers in target provinces (Bokeo and Savannakhet).
- Revise and finalise the NAYFS guideline taking into account lessons learned from the pilot training.
- Provide further recommendations and guidance on implementation of the NAYFS guideline.
- Take a leading role in providing technical inputs and guidance to the ASRH programme component through various means such as technical inputs, direction and support to strengthen coordination, partnership, capacity development and policy dialogue.
The consultancy will be for an initial period of 2 and a half months, with possibility of extension.

In close consultation with UNFPA, Department of Health Care/Ministry of Health and the task force members for the National Adolescents and Youth friendly services, the consultant will develop a work plan based on the detailed schedule provided below.
